Unit 9 Story Time

Tapescript—p. 31 (Dominic)

Once upon a time, a big lion was sleeping after eating a very large dinner. He was dreaming of many things when he suddenly (1) felt something pulling his hair. He slowly (2) opened his eyes and (3) saw a little mouse standing on his front paw. The sleepy lion (4) lifted the little mouse up to his face.

“Don't eat me, sir!” the mouse (5) said quickly, “I (6) didn't know you were a lion. I (7) thought you were some field grass.”

The lion (8) looked at the little mouse.

“If you let me go, I would always be thankful. I can help you someday.”

The lion (9) thought a moment and then (10) laughed. “Help me?” he (11) asked. “What can you do? Help me hunt?”

“I don't know, sir, but I'm sure I can help you somehow.”

The lion slowly (12) put down his paw. “All right, little mouse,” (13) said the lion. “You can go. I won't eat you. Anyway, you're too small to eat.”

“Thank you, sir,” (14) replied the mouse. “I’ll never forget your kindness. I’m sure I can help you in the future.”

The mouse (15) jumped off the lion’s paw and (16) ran away into the forest.

A few months later, some hunters (17) came to the forest. They had been sent by the King to catch a great lion for the King’s zoo. They (18) brought a strong net made of rope to trap the lion.

The lion (19) didn’t know anything about the trap, but he (20) smelled the hunters. While he was looking for something to eat, he (21) stepped into the trap. He was (22) caught. The strong net (23) pulled him high into the air.

He (24) roared loudly and (25) scratched at the ropes, but he (26) couldn’t escape. The strong ropes just (27) became tighter and tighter until he (28) couldn’t move at all.

After a while, he (29) heard a small voice. “Can I help you, sir?” the little mouse (30) asked.

The lion (31) tried to look around, but (32) couldn’t turn his head.

“Down here, sir,” (33) said the mouse.

“So, it’s you! I completely (34) forgot about you. Now look at me—there is nothing you can do.”

“I believe I can help you, sir!” the little mouse (35) said happily. He quickly (36) ran up the tree and (37) climbed down the thick rope to the net.

The little mouse (38) started biting the thick ropes. When the lion (39) told him about the hunters, the mouse (40) worked as fast as he (41) could.

One by one, the mouse (42) chewed the ropes. First the lion’s front legs (43) became free, then his hind legs. Finally, the lion (44) jumped out of the net to the ground.

“You see, sir,” (45) said the mouse, “I (46) helped you because you (47) helped me.”

The lion (48) stretched his legs and (49) looked at the mouse. He (50) said, “Thank you, my little friend. I never (51) thought a little mouse (52) could help me.”

“You’re welcome, sir,” the mouse (53) said with a big smile.

No, I didn't have any problems. I thought all the people were really nice and I really had a good time.

No. I picked up a little bit while I was there but I don't speak Chinese.

The people there could speak English and help you?

Some people.

▶ Unit 16 Accident Prone

Tapescript—p. 66 (Jenna asks Pete)

Are you a clumsy person?

Yeah, some would say I [would]...I am.

Why is that?

Because I tend to trip over my own feet a lot and run into like walls and doors.

Okay. Have you ever spilled a drink on someone?

Yeah, I have. I have spilled a drink on someone.

When was that?

About a year ago.

Have you ever burned yourself?

Yeah, I burned myself on the oven actually like three or four times.

Were you cooking?

Yeah, I was cooking pizza. It was really good. It was pepperoni pizza.

Have you ever been injured while playing a sport?

Well, I twisted my knee once while I was snowboarding, but I really wasn't going anywhere. I was just kind of standing there and I fell. Just one of those clumsy kind of things.

At the end of the run?

Yeah, near the...near the ski lift.

Have you ever pulled a muscle?

Oh—lots of times. Playing all sorts of sports, I guess. Not real serious injury I...but I did pull muscles in my leg playing soccer.

Have you ever broken a bone?

Nope. I've never broken one bone, and haven't had any stitches, either.

Have you ever sprained your ankle or wrist?

I've sprained my wrist, and I think I've sprained my ankle but I don't remember. If...if I did, it wasn't too bad.

What were you doing?

I think I was just messing around with my friends—just playing, you know, maybe some backyard football or something and I sprained my wrist somehow.

Have you ever had a deep cut?

Yeah, I've had several really deep cuts actually. I got one from a biking accident. I fell on the pavement.

Have you ever been in a car accident?

Yeah. I was in a car accident in eighth grade. The car flipped three times and we landed on our side. I was hanging by my seatbelt, and my friend didn't have his shoes on, and he was looking around for his shoes. And I was like, "Get me down!" And he was like, "Hold on! I have to find my shoes!" Because...he had to find his shoes because we were in four feet of snow, so if he would have gone out without shoes, that would have been very cold.

Wow! What's the worst accident you've ever had?

That was the worst accident. I've been in a couple others. Umm...somebody rearended me one time. And I actually rearended somebody else in a car. And it was pretty minor but, you know, the cops still came and took a police report. And I had to call the insurance company and get everything straightened out so... Yeah, I've only been in three.
